The Louisville Commercial Convention.

Mr. Allen Macaulay and the writer, as delegates from the city of Charlotte, attended the Commercial Convention which assembled in Louisville, Ky., on the 12th inst. Owing to circumstances beyond our control, we were unable to leave home in time to be at the opening of the session. We regret to say, for three days there was no duly appointed delegate from this State on the floor, and the announcement of the Committee on Credentials, that the Governor had refused to appoint, seriously impaired the usefulness of Col. W. F. Beasley, who had been telegraphed to by the Mayor of Tarboro, requesting him to represent that city. He was at first refused recognition, but through the kindly assistance of Gen. Chilton was finally admitted to his seat. Mr. Hill Patterson, a North Carolinian, residing in the city of Louisville, was also recognized. Thus the State was ably and creditably represented. Such was the condition of affairs upon our arrival.

Every State was there in the persons of their delegates, and it was the ablest and most efficient body of men with whom we ever co-operated.

We arrived in the city on Thursday after the adjournment, and also after the procession, a description of which was published yesterday, and immediately proceeded to Col. Duncan's office to file our credentials, and place ourselves in position to take our seats. On Friday morning we appeared, and were promptly recognized and placed upon the most important committees, Mr. Macaulay on that of Immigration, the writer on Railroads.

A Committee was raised consisting of delegates from all the States to designate the place and time for the meeting of the next Convention; Mr. Macaulay and ourself represented North Carolina, and cast our vote for Baltimore, Cincinnati, however, was selected.

On motion of Gov. Lobbck, of Texas, a committee of five was appointed on harbors and bars. The writer asked that North Carolina might be added, which was acceded to, and the Committee ultimately increased to eight. After consulting with Mr. Macaulay, the writer was appointed on that Committee, which was exceedingly able, and a report made exhaustive of the subject. Each delegate prepared the portion which referred to his own State, and Col. Fouche of Texas, collated and combined all this miscellaneous matter into a report, which was unanimously adopted by the Convention. Not being friends at a hazard, we prepared the following, which was all we could do and trust Wilmington will take it as an earnest of our desire for her prosperity:

NORTH CAROLINA.—The importance of the port of Wilmington to a large portion of the two Carolinas, and of the rapidly approaching completion of railroads connecting it with the valley of the Cumberland and great West, render it necessary that Government aid be given to the deepening of the bar at the mouth of the Cape Fear river, so as to admit the free passage of sea-going vessels of any tonnage. There is now about 13 feet of water, and it is believed that an appropriation of $300,000 would be enough to make all needed and practical improvements called for. Wilmington is now rapidly growing and with the completion of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford railroad, now being built, will become a city second to none South of Baltimore. For the present, no aid is sought for any other port in North Carolina.

The entire report will be found in the Louisville Courier-Journal of last Sunday, and will be published in full, in the "proceedings" of the Convention.

Charlotte was the only point as aforesaid, that was represented in North Carolina, which speaks well for her public spirit, and it was well she was there, as the announcement that the Governor had refused to appoint, had thrown the State in the back ground which all the efforts of the Charlotte delegation was scarcely able to redeem. Mr. Macaulay and ourself did all in our power for the good of the whole State, but the lateness of the time of our arrival, and other causes, prevented us our doing as much as we desired, but hope that the will, will be taken for the deed.

The Convention.

The Commercial Convention, says the Louisville Journal, after a session of five days, and the transaction of an amount of business considerably exceeding that of any of its predecessors, adjourned yesterday morning at fifteen minutes past eleven o'clock. In no Commercial Convention preceding this have the States of the Union been so fully represented. The deliberations of so great a body of the prominent citizens of the country should carry with them much weight, and the Congress of the United States will not be likely to pass lightly by the petitions of so large and influential an assembly, made up of the representatives of every important commercial and business interest.

There was general good feeling when the convention adjourned yesterday, and a happy disposition to thank every one who in any way had to do with the convention. The closing remarks of President Fillmore, from whose decisions the convention has never once tolerated an appeal during the entire session, were heard with the deepest interest, and roundly applauded as the concluding sentence passed the lips of the aged statesman. Mr. Fillmore said, in the course of his remarks: "I retire from public labor with the consciousness of having done our business to-day."

The following is a summary of the more important matters acted upon by the convention yesterday. Adoption of a report recommending that all cities or towns situated on navigable streams, the local exportations of which amount to or exceed ten thousand dollars, be made ports of entry, adoption of a resolution to memorialize Congress to aid a proposed line of steamships between New Orleans and Rio Janeiro; appointment of a committee to report at the Cincinnati convention on a line of railroad from the Mississippi at New Orleans and from Galveston Bay and the Western harbors of Texas to the nearest and most accessible point on the Pacific; adoption of a resolution authorizing a committee on Education to report at the Cincinnati Convention; adoption of the report of the committee on harbors, channels and bars of the Atlantic and Gulf ports; adoption of a resolution providing for a delegation from the Convention to attend the Universal Exposition at St. Petersburg in 1870, and appointing the President of the Convention chairman of the delegation; reference of a resolution for a committee of five to memorialize Congress to aid in the construction of a railroad from Fort Smith to the Pacific; reference of resolutions indorsing cheap transportation and on express charges; adoption of a resolution authorizing the chairmen of the standing committees to memorialize Congress for the establishment of ports of entry recommended; tabling of both the majority and minority reports on Chinese immigration; adoption of a resolution for the appointment of a committee to memorialize Congress to designate the point at which the World's Fair shall be held in 1871.

CLOSING REMARKS.

PRESIDENT Fillmore said: Gentlemen of the Convention: Before I put this motion I desire most respectfully and heartily to return my thanks for the honor you have done me in making me your presiding officer, and for your expression of approbation. It has been my fortune in the course of a long life to have been connected with many deliberative bodies from the lower house in my own State to the Senate of the United States, and I trust you will allow me to say that I feel that this convention in point of intellectual capacity will compare favorably with any other. [Applause.] I trust and hope that the sentiment which has animated this Convention, composed of men from all parts of the country, East and West, North and South, may have a salutary effect in restoring peace, real peace to the whole country. [Applause.]

I never expect to again be connected with a public body. I regret to part with you, but I leave with satisfaction that your labors have been effective and harmonious. Hoping that great good will result from your deliberations, I retire from public labor with the close of our business of to-day. In pursuance of my duty, I now adjourn this body without delay.

AMERICAN BISHOPS IN ROME.—Lodgings the Doria Palace.—The London Globe says:

"A portion of the Doria Palace, in Rome, has been let for three months by Prince Doria-Fanfili, for 8,000 napoleons, for the purpose of being fitted up as a hotel and restaurant during the sittings of the Council, not for cardinals and bishops only, but for the public generally. In these splendid apartments built for Donna Olympia any man with a few francs in his pocket may soon take his plain, quiet meal. What yokesides, it may well be said, does not the world live to witness in lordly palaces as well as in poor men's huts! Of all the purpled dignitaries soon to be seen rolling in their gilded chariots on the Pincian Hill, the American bishops, it is believed, will be by far the highest. A Catholic banker from Missouri has been specially appointed by them to manage their financial affairs during their stay in Rome."

THE DECISION AS TO STAND-CASKS. The impression seems to have gained ground that the decision of commissioner Delano abolishing the use of stand-casks makes it necessary to throw them aside, and prohibits their use for any other purpose. This is not so, as the decision merely prohibits the use of the casks for retailing liquors from

The Salem Press is dead. We are sorry for it. It does not do well for a community when it does not support their local paper. We hope that the people take some other papers for, as the world goes now, they will certainly get very far behind, who do not read some newspaper.—Newbern Times.

ARRESTED.—A telegraphic dispatch was received in this city from the Chief of the Detective force in Charleston, representing that two white men by the names of W. B. Westlake and J. Burman, charged with forgery, larceny and swindling generally, had left that city and would probably make their way in this direction, and requesting their arrest. Accordingly a competent force was sent to the depot Sunday night, and on the arrival of the Southern train the two worthies mentioned were discovered to be among the passengers and immediately taken into custody. They were taken before Judge Cantwell, of the Special Court, yesterday, but it was finally decided to postpone their examination until this morning.—Star.

A FIRST CLASS HOTEL TO BE ESTABLISHED AT WRIGHTSVILLE SOUND.—A number of prominent capitalists of our city propose to organize, at an early day, a joint stock company for the purpose of building a first class Hotel at Wrightsville Sound. The capital stock of the company will be fixed at $40,000, which will be divided into four hundred shares of $100 each. Of this number, we learn, one hundred shares have already been subscribed, and no doubt is entertained that the whole amount will be taken in a very short time.

This is certainly a move in the right direction, and one which will eventually prove not only exceedingly profitable in a pecuniary point of view to the projectors of this enterprise, but will be a great public convenience to the people of this city and throughout the interior of the State.

The completion of the Seaside Railroad to that point, which in all probability will be consummated by the beginning of next Summer, will render a Hotel such as is proposed to be established an absolute necessity, as a perfect rush will commence with the opening of the road, persons desirous of inhaling the sea breezes, bathing in the surf, &c. With the railway completed and a good hotel at Wrightsville, there will be no necessity for health and pleasure seekers to go North or any where else beyond the borders of our own State, for the mountains and sea-coast of North Carolina will then afford all the facilities required by these classes of our citizens.—Star.

The hundredth anniversary of Humboldt's birth is likely to be celebrated by a work of wider and deeper interest than the illuminations and processions that have been made in his honor, and by one more enduring, perhaps than any of the monuments erected to his memory. Dr. Carl Bruhns, the director of the Berlin astronomical observatory, proposes to edit a scientific life of Alexander von Humboldt, to which the greatest German men of science have promised to contribute. It will be divided into two parts. The first will contain his life in the common acceptance of the word, which has been entrusted to the care of Dr. R. A. Yae Lallemand who will have access to a large number of documents and unpublished MSS. The second part will treat of Humboldt's scientific discoveries and investigations. It will be divided into eight chapters, each treating a single science, and committed to the charge of a man of great eminence in that branch. Those who are in possession of unpublished information as to the life or studies of Humboldt are requested to forward them to Dr. Bruhns. The work will be published by F. A. Brockhaus, of Leipsic.

MR. DAVIS'S DEPARTURE FROM BALTIMORE TO NEW ORLEANS.—There was a considerable crowd gathered to witness the sailing of the ship, and many remained on the wharf anxiously watching her until the hazy atmosphere excluded her from sight. Mr. Davis left the city in good health and spirits the few days' repose he has experienced since arriving from Europe on Sunday evening appearing to have added to his already improved health. He goes to Mississippi on private business, and it is understood to be quite uncertain how long he may remain there.

Baltimore Sun.

When Victor Hugo finished his speech at the Peace Congress of Lausanne, he was met by an old Frenchman, who begged the permission to embrace him. "Why should I allow you to do so, Monsieur?" asked the exile of Guernsey, rather haughtily. "Monsieur Hugo," replied the old man, "I was transported to Cayenne, in 1852, for having sold a few copies of your 'Napoléon le Petit.'" Victor Hugo immediately opened his arms to him, embraced him, and then presented him with a thousand francs.

The Great Vitalizer.

This title may be fairly given to a restorative which has taken precedence of all other tonics and alternative preparations for a period of nearly twenty years. During that long interval HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS may be truly said to have enjoyed unrivaled popularity. Many proprie-taries have been got up to compete with it, but they have all fallen into its wake or been sunk into it. Now world-known

Vegetable Tonic has been added to the number of its friends, and the demand for it, based solely upon the experimental proofs of its excellence as a preventive and curative, seems to have no as-at the head of the class of medicines to which it belongs, the admitted, undisputed tics of the United States Revenue department will verify the statement that it stands alone and unapproached in the magnitude of its sales as compared with those of any other proprietary remedy advertised on this side of the Atlantic.

THE EXPLANATION of this fact may be comprised in a few words. HOSTETTER'S every variety of malarious disease. Hence it is especially adapted to the present season

Col. Cowan moved to invite a delegation from Catawba, then present, to participate in the meeting, which was adopted.

Dr. Sloan, the President of the Company, then read his report, which was followed by the reports of the Treasurer and Gen. Supt., which were approved.

Somebody has discovered that a great number of famous names end in "on." For example, Byron, Bacon, Gibbon, Clarendon, Haydon, Johnson, Addison, Lytton, Milton, Murchison, Newton, Palmerston, Stephenson, Tennyson, Wellington, Napoleon, Nelson, Chatterton, etc., etc.

Some one says: "The Pope is making a crusade upon the improprieties of dress, and we learn lays the blame on the shoulders of the ladies." The Pope is at fault. We have examined the shoulders of ladies, and haven't found a blame thing there."
